1. INTRODUCTION by the FEDERATION CHAIRMAN

Dear Friends,

Thank you for taking on the organisation British Final. Such a prestigious event doesn't happen without an enormous amount of work from a good many volunteers and UKCDFF are truly appreciative of your efforts.

However to win the coveted Howard de Walden Trophy and to be crowned British Champions is still the pinnacle to which all UK clubs aspire. It is this that makes "The British" so exceptional and vindicates your long months of planning.

Can I stress that these are only guidelines, please use your own experience to flesh out the details and most certainly to stamp your own local flavour on it. If there is anything that you would like clarified, do not hesitate to contact any of the officers of UK CDFF and if you felt it would be helpful a meeting could be arranged.

All that remains, is for me to wish you well with your preparations and to say that we are certainly looking forward to the Festival, to meeting you and enjoying the weekend.

Sincerely,

Chair UK CDFF

2. THE PURPOSE OF THESE GENERAL PRACTICE GUIDELINES

- 2.1. These Guidelines have been produced by the United Kingdom Community Drama Festivals Federation (UKCDFF) to assist the organisers of the British Final of One-Act Plays. This is the culmination of the annual one-act drama seasons of each of the four home nation drama festival bodies the All-England Theatre Festival (AETF), Drama Association of Wales (DAW), Association of Ulster Drama Festivals (AUDF) and Scottish Community Drama Association (SCDA).
- 2.2. Although the basic structure of the event is fixed there is huge scope for the exercise of creativity. Thus the guidelines are intended to lay out a ground plan for the event without stifling local initiative and cultural identity. Their scope and effectiveness will be kept under periodic review in response to feedback by organisers, performers and audience members alike. The document appendices are updated annually.

3. THE UKCDFF - BACKGROUND, COMPOSITION, CURRENT MEMBERS

- 3.1 The UKCDFF, a registered charity, was formed in 2014 following amalgamation with the British Finals Standing Committee. Its function is to set policy for and oversee the British Final of One-Act Plays.
- 3.2 In addition to its Constitution and these General Practice Guidelines it has also produced its own Festival Entry Rules (for use by performers) and Organisational Rules (for its own use). All the above documents are available on request via the Chairs of each of the home nation bodies.
- 3.3 The UKCDFF holds its Annual General Meeting during the weekend of the British Final of One-Act Plays.
- 3.4 The composition of the UKCDFF is detailed in its Constitution. A list of the current representatives along with a set of national logos is appended to this document.

See Appendix 1

4. THE BRITISH FINAL OF ONE-ACT PLAYS

4.1 PLANNING AND IMPLEMENTATION

4.1.1 The planning and running of the festival is overwhelmingly the responsibility of the host country through its local, delegated organisers (who, it is expected, will have seasoned drama festival experience). Broad areas of responsibility include publicity, booking the theatre and adjudicator, selecting hotel accommodation (and securing good deals), planning social functions (including a Civic Reception), compiling the festival programme, organising the raffle and copying minutes of meetings to the national association.

All advertising material should use the official logo of the British Final of One-Act Plays. see

BRITISH FINAL OF ONE ACT PLAYS

4.1.2 Because the event has so many facets, organisers are encouraged to plan well ahead. Two working aids are attached to provide a helpful template, though they need not be followed to the letter. They are an 'An Aide-Memoire / Diary for hosting the British Final of One-Act Plays' appended to this document.

See Appendix 2

And 'A Check List for hosting the British Final of One-Act Plays' is also appended.

See Appendix 3

4.2 TIMING AND ROTATION OF RESPONSIBILITY

- 4.2.1 The event takes place annually over the Friday and Saturday of a weekend in early July.
- 4.2.2 Each country has the opportunity to host the event once every 4 years. The organisation of the event is the responsibility of the national host country and its local delegated executive body.
- 4.2.3 The rotation of the event is encapsulated in the mnemonic SEWN (Scotland, England, Wales, Northern Ireland) Performance running order also rotates; the host country performs first and the following year performs last.

See Appendix 4

4.3 GENERAL FORMAT

- 4.3.1 Two productions are performed on the Friday evening and two on the Saturday evening.
- 4.3.2 Before the start of each evening's entertainment, there should be a formal introduction from the stage.
- 4.3.3 An after-show 'social event' should be incorporated as part of each evening's programme to encourage organisers, performers and audience members to relax and mix in a festive atmosphere. Previously successful events have included one or more of the following barn dance, ceilidh, live band, quiz, cabaret entertainer.
  - Catering for 100 is recommended as a starting point.
  - Hot food is not considered essential but it should be reflected in the ticket price.
  - Two tables should be reserved for the participating teams at each of the social events.
  - Food should be kept back for the two teams as they have to complete there 'Get Out' from the theatre before attending the event.

4.3.5 A civic reception for all four teams should be arranged, preferably on the Saturday morning.

(More detailed guidance is provided in Section 3.4)

- 4.3.6 A room should be booked for the UKCDFF meeting at 14:00 and the Annual General Meeting at 16:00 on the Friday Afternoon and 10:30 on the Sunday morning, this will only be for one hour.
- 4.3.7 Organisers are encouraged to arrange or recommend other activities over the weekend. There is a list of potential additional 'extras' appended; however organisers are encouraged to develop their own ideas.

See Appendix 5

4.4 THE CIVIC RECEPTION

- 4.4.1 This is an opportunity for dignitaries of the local authority and the festival participants to meet in friendship.
- 4.4.2 The event should take place on the Saturday morning before rehearsals.
- 4.4.3 Organisers should make both the local authority representative and each of the teams aware in good time of the protocol set out below in 4.4.4.
- 4.4.4 The established practice at the reception is for:
  - o National Chairs to wear regalia.
  - The mayor / provost or other senior local authority representative to give a welcome speech;
  - The Chair of the UKCDFF to reply and provide the host with a memento;
  - o National Chairs to introduce their finalists;
  - o the teams themselves to exchange gifts (to a maximum value of £25)
- 4.4.5 The local organisers and their national association are responsible for agreeing who and how many people are invited to the reception. Invitations should be issued in good time.
- 4.4.6 If it proves impossible to arrange a local authority-hosted reception, then it is the organiser's responsibility to plan for an alternative welcoming event at which the teams can be formally introduced and exchange gifts.

4.5 TECHNICAL REHEARSALS

- 3.5.1 Each team rehearses on its day of performance.
- 3.5.2 Saturday rehearsals normally take place after the civic reception.
- 3.5.3 The length of each technical rehearsal is at the local organiser's discretion, but will not be expected to exceed an hour and a half.
- 3.5.4 It is the responsibility of the local organiser through its stage manager / director to verify that valid performance licensing arrangements are in place and that written approval has been received for any cuts.
- 3.5.5 The stage manager / director should be furnished with an up-to-date copy of the Festival Entry Rules (currently UKCDFF-FER-0).

4.6 GUESTS, SPONSORS AND PLATFORM PARTY ARRANGEMENTS

4.6.1 The host association and its local organisers have responsibility for selecting and inviting special guests, including sponsor representatives.

- 4.6.2 The author of the winning Geoffrey Whitworth Trophy play should be invited to the last night to receive the trophy from the stage during the awards ceremony.
- 4.6.3 The platform party for the awards ceremony should be led by the Chair of the host nation. The composition of the party, the order of events and individual responsibilities should be guided by the protocol laid down. The protocol is designed to ensure that everyone on stage has a job to do and is appended.

See Appendix 6.

- 4.6.4 It is recommended that hosts provide the adjudicator and each competing team with mementos of the occasion.
- 4.6.5 It is highly desirable to secure the services of a photographer to capture the award ceremony for posterity.
- 4.6.6 Hosts are responsible for ensuring that the ceremony runs like clockwork and to a high standard. An inadequately planned and executed final ceremony can tarnish the whole event.

4.7 HOTELS

- 4.7.1 It is recommended that a lead hotel is identified and rooms reserved. If this course of action is followed, the local organisers will normally act as booking agents on behalf of the hotel.
  However, practice should reflect local conditions and organisers may decide to
  - provide only a list of recommended hotels and leave festival attendees to book accommodation direct.
- 4.7.2 Because the national finals of Wales and England are normally held only a few weeks before the British Final, organisers should be pro-active in reserving rooms for the winning teams of these events.

4.8 THEATRE TICKETS

- 4.8.1 Ticketing arrangements are entirely at the discretion of the local organisers in response to local conditions.
- 4.8.2 Cast members and up to four crew members will receive a complimentary ticket each on the night of their production.

4.9 BROCHURES AND BOOKING FORMS

- 4.9.1 A basic brochure about the following year's event should be made available at the Final, even if ticket and hotel costs and details of social events are not at that stage available.
- 4.9.2 All final brochures should include a booking form for the social events (and theatre tickets and hotel rooms if appropriate) information on local places of interest to visit and advice on accommodation / travel packages if these are available. The Federation Administrator will place a copy of the brochure on www.britishfinal.org.uk.
- 4.9.3 Organisers are encouraged to produce fuller welcome packs for supporters who have booked for the whole weekend.

4.10 THE ADJUDICATOR

4.10.1 The host national association selects the adjudicator and draws up the contract of engagement.

- 4.10.2 The local organisers ensure that all four scripts reach the adjudicator in good time.
- 4.10.3 The local organisers liaise directly with the adjudicator regarding his or her hotel accommodation and travel.
- 4.10.4 The adjudicator will be provided with a copy of the Festival Entry Rules and be informed by the festival stage manager / director of any infringement of these rules.
- 4.10.5 The adjudicator will be expected to:
  - Restrict his or her adjudications from the stage to around 10 minutes per play;
  - O Cover all the standard 'aspects of performance' (Acting, Direction, Stage Presentation, Dramatic Achievement);
  - O Deliver informative feedback that can be appreciated and understood by audience members:
  - O Adhere to the marking scheme laid down in the Festival Entry Rules (UKCDFF-FER-0)
  - O Consider the challenges posed by each play (this may, on occasions, necessitate comment on its writing and structure)

4.11 INFORMATION FOR THE FINALISTS

- 4.11.1 As the venue (and possibly the event itself) will be virgin territory for each finalist it is vital that local organisers provide a lucid, helpful and comprehensive 'Welcome Pack' to guide teams through their preparations.
- 4.11.2 The pack should be prefaced by a welcome letter to each team congratulating them on their achievement and giving a local contact for all general queries. Organisers are free to adapt the specimen letter appended to this document.

See Appendix 7

- 4.11.3 In addition to the welcome letter the pack should include:
  - o A letter of congratulations from the UKCDFF Chair.
  - Performance running order, rehearsal times and the identity and contact details of the organising secretary and stage manager / director;
  - O Details of other events (civic reception, social activities etc);
  - A theatre facility pack complete with stage plan, equipment and lighting inventory and a technical contact at the venue;
  - o A copy of the theatre's Health and Safety Policy;
  - o Box office information (or a booking form for tickets);
  - o A list of recommended hotels;
  - o Information on local visitor attractions.
- 4.11.4 The Pack should make clear that the finalists have a duty to conduct themselves in a befitting manner and show respect and courtesy towards the event organisers, theatre staff and their fellow competitors.
- 4.11.5 It should be made clear to the competing teams, both in the welcome pack and by the stage manager / director on the day, that bows are not permitted at the end of a performance.

4.11.6 The welcome pack and the stage manager / director should also ask teams to use discretion and maturity when taking photos off-stage and in dressing rooms. No photo should be posted on to a social media platform without the express permission of the person or persons captured in the shot.

4.12 INFORMATION FROM THE FINALISTS.

- 4.12.1 All four finalists have a duty to provide timely information about their productions and production needs. Thus the Welcome Pack should set prompt return deadlines for the following:
  - Background information about the group, cast and crew details, a short synopsis of the play and an estimated performing time (all for inclusion in the theatre programme);
  - A scenery and properties plot (complete with dimensions);
  - o A list of lighting and sound needs;
  - o A set of production photos for FOH display;
  - A copy of the script (for the adjudicator)

4.13 FESTIVAL FINANCES

- 4.13.1 The cost of running the festival is borne by the host country through ticket receipts, grant applications and fundraising / sponsorship. All profits are retained by the host national association.
- 4.13.2. Current practice is to provide financial assistance to all four finalists to help them recover some of their travel and accommodation costs. This assistance is currently subject to payment ceilings of £800 for the host country finalist and £1,200 each for the other three finalists. Although the host country is entitled to reduce these amounts as local circumstances dictate, every attempt should be made to honour the sums referred to above.
- 4.13.3. Within the above ceilings only expenditure considered reasonable by the host nation will be re-reimbursed. All claims must be accompanied by receipts. The following are considered reasonable items of expenditure:
  - Ferry fare
  - Two night accommodation costs for cast and crew
  - o Four day van-hire.
  - o Petrol costs at 15 per mile.
- 4.13.4 Cheques for the teams should be presented on the final evening of the event.
- 4.13.5 Consolidated financial figures for each of the previous eight British Finals of One-Act Plays are appended to this document.

See Appendix 8

4.14 PUBLIC RELATIONS

The UKCDFF is responsible for ensuring that the British Final of One-Act Plays is a recognised brand. Although this section focuses on the responsibilities of UKCDFF representatives, British Final hosts and the competing teams at the Final, the advocacy of organisers and teams at all levels of competition in all four countries is clearly vital.

- 4.14.1 National Association representatives on the UKCDFF should make maximum effort to publicise the event each year by:
  - Keeping the Federation web site up to date.
  - o Distributing information provided by the host nation organisers.
  - o Using Federation banners.

- 4.14.2 The British Final host nation should:
  - O Display the British Final of One-Act Plays logo in festival programmes at every tier of competition.
  - Send soft copy publicity to members on the Federation Contacts List who will arrange for its distribution across their respective associations. Hard copy material such as flyers should be passed to UKCDFF members either at the preceding British Final or at the following February meeting of the UKCDFF.
- 3.14.3 All four finalists are encouraged to write an article about their achievement in reaching the British Final and post it on social media platforms. It should also be sent to their respective national associations and to UKCDFF members.

5. THE GEOFFREY WHITWORTH PLAYWRITING COMPETITION

- 5.1. This is an annual, nationwide competition open to any author of a new play receiving its premiere at a preliminary round festival that provides an entry point to the 'British Final of One-Act Plays' during a current season.
- 5.2 The Federation has ownership of the rules under which the competition is run.
- 5.3 The Scottish Community Drama Association (SCDA) administers the competition and receives a fee for doing so from the Federation.
- 5.4 The author of each play entered in the competition receives a written critique via the SCDA.
- 5.5. The Geoffrey Whitworth Trophy is presented to the winning author (or author's representative) at the British Final.
- 5.6 Every effort should be made by local organisers to showcase the winning play over the weekend of the Final with a scripted reading or rehearsed performance by a local group. It is essential that the costs of hiring a room or theatre venue for this purpose are kept to a bare minimum. No set is necessary. The author should be informed of the intention to perform the play, invited to attend the performance and encouraged to give directorial guidance (either remotely or in person).
- 5.7 The scripted reading / rehearsed performance should be publicised in the British Final brochure.
- 5.8 As CRESSRELLES www.cressrelles.co.uk will be publishing the winning play each year it is important that an appropriate advert appears within the British Final of One-Act Plays program.
- 5.9 The entry form for the competition can be downloaded from www.britishfinal.org.uk or from any of the national association web sites. A copy is also appended to this document.

Check-List for hosting of the "British Final of One-Act Plays"

This form is intended for use by committees organising the British Final of One-Act Plays as a check-list and aide-memoire.

- The Organising Committee should include a representative from the National Association.
- It is a general policy that social events should be self-supporting or subsidised by local fund raising. Box Office receipts should not be used to fund social events.
- Proper records should be kept of all meetings of the Organising Committee. Copies should be held by the National Representative.
- A budget should be drawn up keeping in mind that a financial surplus is essential for the financial health of the Association.
- The Organising Committee should receive all income and make all payments for the Festival including the team's grants.
- All income and expenditure in connection with the British Final of One-Act Plays must be accounted for in the financial statement for the Festival and the net surplus should be forwarded to National Association as soon as possible.

Letter to Winning Team

Host Associations Letterhead

[date]

The "British Final of One-Act Plays".

Dear National Winner

Many congratulations, on behalf of the 'UK Drama Festivals Federation' and ourselves, to you on winning the [2015 English Final], we are certainly hoping that you have a wonderful time here in [Bracknell] on the [3rd July] (Your performance date).

You may not know that it is usual at British Finals for a reception to be held on the Saturday morning. Although each country varies, the usual format at these receptions is for the local Civic Representative to give a short welcome with a reply from the UKCDFF Chairman and gifts are exchanged between them. It is the normal practice for each country to exchange a gift with each of the other three teams taking part in the Festival. Your National Chairman will introduce your group's representative who will speak about your group and exchange the gifts with the other groups.

We will allocate a table for your team at the after show event on the evening of your performance.

You will be receiving some financial help from us towards your expenses normally around £1k, paid on the final night of the festival, but this can vary depending on the support that the event attracts.

Full details regarding: -

- Theatre Performance & Rehearsal timings
- Information We require from you
- Accommodation -
- Ticket ordering –

etc are attached.

I can't think of anything else that may come as a surprise to you, but should you have any query please do not hesitate to get in touch. (Contact details above.) We will update you on any further developments once we have your contact details.

Kind regards,

Festival Coordinator
